Subject : Clarification of The Standard (Internet Edition) news article

Gentlemen:

Regarding the news article that was posted in The Standard (Internet Edition) on May 24, 2016 entitled "Coal plant rising in La Union", which reported in part that:

"Global Business Power Corp., a unit of GT Capital Holdings Inc. of tycoon George Ty, on Tuesday confirmed its first power project in Luzon—a 670-megawatt new station being built by a subsidiary in La Union

Global Business Power president Rolando Bacani said unit Global Luzon Energy Development Corp. would construct a two 335-MW coal-fired power generating (sic) facility in Barangay Luna, La Union.

Global Luzon has already signed a power sales agreement with Manila Electric Co. for the 600-MW output of the plant.

We confirm the statement made by Global Business Power Corporation's (GBPC) President, Mr. Rolando T. Bacani, on the plan of its subsidiary, Global Luzon Energy Development Corporation (GLEDC), to construct a 2 x 335 MW coal-fired power generating facility in Brgy. Luna, La Union. The plan, as well as the joint application of Meralco and GLEDC for the approval of the Power Supply Agreement, was disclosed by GT Capital Holdings, Inc. on May 2, 2016.

Very truly yours,

ATTY. RENEE LYNN MICIANO-ATIENZA
Assistant Vice President
Head, Legal and Compliance Division
